DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 6, 8-10 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Guasco (Pat. No. 1,558,351).

Performance of the Guasco method inherently develops strength in a muscle since muscle is being activated in the writing process. As disclosed and claimed, the applicant considers a writing instrument to constitute an acceptable movable instrument for developing muscle strength.

3. Claims 8, 11, 12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mills (Pat. No. 4,930,785).

The examiner considers the vibration means (motor, eccentric weight, etc.) of Mills to constitute a stimulator. While the intended use of developing muscle strength was considered, such functional limitations fail to saliently distinguish over the golf club apparatus of Mills which is also capable of developing muscle strength.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Poulton (Pat. No. 5,702,323).

Poulton discloses a method of developing strength in a muscle including applying electrostimulation to muscles in order to enhance exercise. Poulton discloses that many different exercises may be incorporated into the method, including arm wrestling (note col. 11, lines 6-31) which involves gripping an opponent's hand (or machine "hand"). In such a system, it would have been considered blatantly obvious to include an electrode on the element gripped by the exerciser in order to enable electrostimulation of the user's hand to emulate the actual sensations of an arm wrestling event, as well as feedback of patient generated forces to the machine in order to control operation.

Regarding the specific applications discussed in claims 2-5, Poulton clearly intends his invention to apply to a wide variety of exercises and activities including virtual baseball (col. 5, lines 27-30). The extension of the invention to other forms of sports or entertainment activities such as golf, tennis and hockey would have been considered obvious since these are typical activities engaged in by individuals and clearly within the realm of the Poulton invention which covers sports in general. To provide an electrode on the grip of a golf club, tennis racquet, baseball bat, hockey stick, etc., in order to emulate the forces experienced by a participant when striking a ball or puck via electromuscular stimulation such as discussed by Poulton, would have been considered obvious to those desiring to provide the user with a realistic experience.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
